

Dominic Cable Tray Price and Specification List

AI Overview

Dominic cable trays are available in modular, adjustable, and fireproof steel models, with prices varying by type, size, and supplier. Available Models

- 1. Fireproof Steel Cable Trays Dominic offers fireproof steel cable trays suitable for industrial and commercial installations. These trays are designed to withstand high temperatures and provide robust support for electrical cables. They are typically available in various widths, lengths, and load capacities, and are supplied by multiple manufacturers in Turkey and other regions.
- 2. Modular Cable Trays The modular design allows customization for different installation needs. These trays feature adjustable horizontal slats and integrated channels to accommodate accessories like clamps, brackets, or additional cable supports. They are made from durable aluminum or steel with corrosion-resistant finishes, suitable for both indoor and outdoor applications.
- 3. Adjustable Cable Trays Dominic also provides adjustable cable trays, which can be resized or reconfigured to fit specific layouts. These are ideal for dynamic installations where cable routing may change over time. Adjustable models are available in various lengths and widths, with weight capacities designed to support heavy cable loads.

Pricing Overview

Wholesale and Bulk Pricing: Dominic cable trays can be purchased in bulk from verified suppliers, often with discounts for large orders. Prices vary depending on the model, material, and dimensions.

Estimated Price Range: While exact prices depend on specifications, fireproof steel trays and modular aluminum trays generally range from $50 to $300 per unit for standard sizes, with larger or specialized trays costing more. Adjustable models may have slightly higher prices due to their flexibility and customization features.
