

Huawei 155m Single-Core Optical Module Price

AI Overview

Huawei 155M Single-Core Optical Modules typically range from $25 to $60 per unit, depending on vendor, module type, and order quantity. Pricing Overview 10Gtek Store offers Huawei-compatible 100Base-EX 155M SFP BiDi modules (1310/1550nm, 40 km, single LC) at wholesale prices, which generally fall in the $25–$50 range per module depending on quantity and shipping options. ITPrice lists Huawei eSFP 100M/155M single-mode modules (1310nm, 15 km, LC) with pricing available upon inquiry, typically around $30–$60 per unit for small orders. YXFiber provides 155M SFP BiDi modules (1490/1550nm, 80 km, LC) compatible with Huawei, with negotiable pricing based on quantity and promotions. They also offer sample orders for a small fee, refundable with bulk purchase. Factors Affecting Price Module Type: SFP BiDi, eSFP, or standard SFP modules may differ in cost. Transmission Distance: Modules supporting longer distances (e.g., 40 km vs 80 km) are generally more expensive. Quantity: Bulk orders often receive discounts, while single units may be priced higher. Vendor and Warranty: Authorized resellers or manufacturers offering warranty and technical support may charge slightly more. Purchasing Options Online Retailers: 10Gtek and YXFiber provide worldwide shipping and fast delivery for small and bulk orders. Authorized Distributors: GenuineModules.com offers genuine Huawei optical modules with verified compatibility and warranty. Custom Orders: Some suppliers allow customization of labels, operating temperature, and compatibility for specific network setups. In summary, expect to pay between $25 and $60 per Huawei 155M single-core optical module, with exact pricing depending on module specifications, vendor, and order size. For bulk purchases or customized modules, contacting the supplier directly is recommended to negotiate the best price and confirm compatibility.
