

Power Distribution Box Manufacturer Direct Sales

AI Overview

Several companies offer direct sales of high-quality power distribution boxes, including SX, DISTRO-DIRECT, and Lex Products, providing customizable, durable, and cost-effective solutions. Leading Direct Sales Companies

1. SX Power Box Distribution SX specializes in factory-direct sales of power distribution boxes for industrial, commercial, and event applications. They offer both ready-made and customizable solutions, ensuring high durability and reliable performance. By eliminating middlemen, SX provides cost-effective pricing while maintaining rigorous quality standards. Their products are designed to withstand demanding environments and include built-in safety features for smooth operation under high loads.
2. DISTRO-DIRECT DISTRO-DIRECT sells professional power distribution units manufactured exclusively by INDU-ELECTRIC. Their offerings include mobile and stationary units ranging from 16A to 630A, suitable for events, film, entertainment, and industrial use. Products include stackable mobile units, compact boxes, 19-inch rack units, flightcase distribution boxes, and wall-mounted or truss-mounted units. They emphasize certified quality, ruggedness, and ease of use, with power outlets at the front and circuit breakers at the back.
3. Lex Products Lex Products provides portable power distribution boxes and units for indoor and outdoor applications, including industrial, military, and entertainment sectors. Their Load Master™ Series and Outdoor PowerRACK™ panels range from 20A to 800A and feature adjustable circuit breakers, compact designs, and robust rubber enclosures resistant to rust, corrosion, and mechanical shock. Lex also offers custom-engineered solutions to meet specific power requirements, adhering to NEC and UL standards.
