

Slovenian network cabinet manufacturing company

AI Overview

Slovenia hosts several experienced manufacturers of network and server cabinets, offering customizable solutions for data centers, telecom, and industrial applications. Key Manufacturers ODM is a Slovenian company with over 25 years of experience in designing and manufacturing data center and control room solutions. They provide fully customizable network and server enclosures, adapting height, width, depth, color, and specialized applications to client needs. Their engineering team supports technical and mechanical requirements, and their production plant allows for flexible and rapid manufacturing. Elba d.o.o. specializes in electrical installation products and network enclosures for computer, telephone, and optical networks. They use advanced machinery, including TRUMPF laser machines and computer-guided bending machines, to produce high-precision sheet metal cabinets. Elba also offers powder coating for durability and aesthetic finish, and their facilities allow clients to access machines and expert advice for custom projects. EZZ Fiber Optic Center provides a wide range of high-quality wall-mounted and free-standing enclosures, server cabinets, cable management modules, and accessories. Their products are made from steel with powder-coated finishes, suitable for both industrial and telecom applications. Kontron Slovenia manufactures indoor and outdoor protective cabinets for FTTH, FTTB, and FTTC deployments. Their cabinets are designed for urban, suburban, and rural environments, with features such as vandal resistance, wide temperature operation, and integration of batteries, distribution frames, splitters, and OLTs for broadband services.
