

What are some optical fiber cable manufacturers in Slovakia

AI Overview

Slovakia hosts several reputable optical fiber cable manufacturers, including SYLEX, PROFiber Networking, Foss Fibre Optics, Keline, SKB-GROUP, and Kocent Optec. Key Manufacturers SYLEX specializes in high-quality optical interconnect solutions, including pre-terminated trunk cables, fanout assemblies, and high-density fiber array assemblies. They focus on complex fiber routing challenges and provide solutions for both small-scale and large-scale fiber networks. PROFiber Networking CZ s.r.o. offers fiber optic manufacturing, calibration, and testing services through an accredited laboratory. They also provide professional training in fiber optics, supporting both theoretical and practical skill development. Foss Fibre Optics operates production facilities in Slovakia and Norway, producing high-quality optical connectors and cables. They develop customized systems for demanding environments, including telecom, defense, and industrial sectors, and maintain ISO 14001 certification for sustainable production. Keline manufactures structured cabling systems, including optical cabling components that meet international standards. Their products support high-speed digital signal transmission and are widely distributed across industrial and commercial applications. SKB-GROUP produces a wide range of flexible cables with a focus on innovation and quality. They offer tailored cable solutions and emphasize product development and testing to meet industrial demands. Kocent Optec provides precision-engineered fiber optic components and solutions for telecommunications, enterprise networks, and data centers. They offer MTP/MPO patch cords, tactical fiber optic cables, and customized solutions for Slovakian projects, including ODM and OEM services. These manufacturers collectively cover a broad spectrum of fiber optic solutions, from sta...
