

Xinhuang Hot-Dip Galvanized Cable Tray Price Quotation

AI Overview

Hot-dip galvanized cable trays from Xinhuang and other Chinese suppliers are available with competitive factory-direct and wholesale pricing, typically ranging based on tray type, thickness, and customization options.

Pricing Overview Hot-dip galvanized cable trays are priced according to material thickness, tray type, and load capacity. Standard tray thickness ranges from 1.2 mm to 2.5 mm, with thicker trays offering higher load-bearing capacity and durability in harsh environments. Prices vary depending on whether the trays are ladder, perforated, solid-bottom, or basket type, as each design affects material usage and manufacturing complexity.

Wholesale suppliers like Shanghai Qionghai Industry Co., Ltd. provide comprehensive price lists for bulk orders, including standard and custom sizes, with competitive rates for factory-direct purchases. OEM options are also available for projects requiring specific dimensions or branding.

Factors Affecting Quotation

- Tray Type: Ladder trays are generally less expensive than solid-bottom trays due to lower material usage, while basket trays may cost more due to intricate wire construction.
- Material Thickness: Thicker steel (up to 2.5 mm) increases cost but enhances load capacity and corrosion resistance.
- Quantity: Bulk orders often receive volume discounts, reducing per-unit cost.
- Customization: OEM or custom-length trays may incur additional charges depending on complexity.
- Shipping and Logistics: Delivery costs vary based on location, order size, and supplier shipping policies. China remains a major exporter, with competitive pricing for Asia-Pacific and global markets.

How to Obtain a Quotation
